Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term “second closed bottom end” is inaccurate in claim 1 because the apertures in the bottom prevent the strainer to have a closed bottom end.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Grusin (US 5,373,779). Grusin discloses a device comprising an outer container 12 having a first wall, a closed bottom end and a first upper open edge and defining a first interior cavity. A strainer 14 having a second sidewall, a second closed bottom end and a second upper open edge and defining a second interior cavity. The second sidewall and the second closed bottom defining a plurality of apertures. A lid 16 received upon the second upper edge. The strainer is sized and shaped to rest within the outer container.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3728

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Colombo (US 5,088,618) in view of Muchin et al. (US 2003/0197014 A1). Colombo discloses a cleaning device comprising an outer container 2 having a first wall, a closed bottom end and a first upper open edge and defining a first interior cavity. A strainer 30 having a second sidewall, a second bottom end and a second upper open edge and defining a second interior cavity. The second sidewall and the second bottom defining a plurality of apertures. The space underneath the lid is the storage compartment. The outer container and the strainer each have a handle mounted on an upper edge. But Colombo does not disclose a lid as recited in claim 1. However, Muchin et al. teaches a container providing a lid 24 with a notch 60 adapted to mount over the handle attachment. It would have been obvious in view of Muchin to provide a lid to cover the articles during transportation and a notch on the lid to allow pivoting of the handle.

6. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references applied above with respect to claim 3, further in view of Weber (US 5,400,916). Although Colombo shows a spout on the outer container, it does not contain a second spout in the strainer. But Weber teaches a bucket with an insert wherein the insert has a similar spout to match the spout on the outer container. Hence, it would have been obvious in view of Weber to provide a spout on the rim of the strainer to allow simultaneous pouring action when the strainer is therein.
